

RESIDENTIAL PROGRAM

As metro-Denver's only Residential Program for parenting teen moms, Hope House Colorado's Residential Program offers a safe, stable home for teen moms and their children who are participating in our programs and who have become homeless or are living in an unsafe environment. Our 12-bedroom home provides our moms with respite care, up to nine months of transitional housing or up to two years of comprehensive programming.

Our Residential House offers:

- Safe housing for approximately six teen moms and their children.
- A playroom for children.
- Extended dining area for family-style meals.
- Access to the Resource Center that provides free self-sufficiency classes, a quiet Learning Lab, access to meals in the Dining Hall, an Early Learning & School Age Program and more.

“

The Residential Program was a lifesaver. Every single person helped my daughter and me build the better life we deserve, with all the right steps and support. I'm now able to support both of us on my own while also pursuing a college degree.”

“

Through the housing services I received at Hope House, I was able to find a safe, warm place for my daughter and me, which has made it easier to focus on the future and work toward financial stability. The unwavering care from the staff filled me with the kind of hope that reminds me I truly matter. Their supportive presence has woven a network of care into my daily life, giving me the strength to envision a future built on stability and purpose. Each act of kindness served as a reminder that even in the midst of uncertainty, there is a community ready to walk beside me, like family, on my journey toward a brighter tomorrow.”

HOUSING SERVICES

The Housing Support Program is responsible for assisting teen moms with obtaining stable housing and driving growth in the housing domain of the Self-Sufficiency Rubric. Housing services include assisting teen moms to understand the different housing options that will best meet their current needs; guiding them through filling out housing applications; assisting them with budgeting and obtaining vital documentation; and landlord management, eviction mitigation and habitability support as needed. The program also assists with deposits and first month's rent to help moms secure stable and safe housing.

Hope House utilizes a variety of housing partnerships to support teen moms' housing needs:

- Beyond Home
- Warren Village
- Joshua Station
- Urban Peak
- Castle Gate Apartments
- Knock Knock Angels
